You'll find some things in this book that you will not find in other places, such as the illustration of a rare French indigo resist fabric. Love the idea of pairing textiles and ceramics and looking at them in the same context, as examples of blue. I can only imagine what a marvelous exhibition it was.

The catalogue of an exhibition at the Baltimore Museum of Art, December 4, 1973 to January 20, 1974. 119 textiles are described of which many are illustrated in black and white. 64 related ceramics are described of which several are illustrated.
